first appeared at the hospital after Mrs. Ida Walters forced her two childrend of mercury and then herself took some of the poison. Then he was defiant to all criticism: refused to say anything concerning himself or the woman. But now he apparently feels the lash of public scorn.

Not only yesterday morning did a statement purporting to be signed by Mrs. Ida Walters and defending Rogers come from the hands of one of his friends, but it is now said Rogers intends to make a public defence of his association with the affair.

Rogers Seeks to Explain.

"Lorlys is tired of being held dangling before the world as a lady-killer," said one of his friends last night. The man who made this statement is very close to Rogers. "Yes, he's tired of it. He wants the world to know just where he stands. I think he will issue a statement in a day or so, and, if he does, it will contain the ascertions that:

"First: Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers was responsible for his divorce from Mrs. Annie Roguemore Rogers.
"Second: After he had lived a few weeks with Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers was responsible for his divorce from Mrs. Annie Roguemore Rogers.
"Second: After he had lived a few weeks with Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers was responsible for his divorce from Mrs. Annie Roguemore Rogers.
"Second: After he had lived a few weeks with Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers agreed on a divorce, making a written agreement, in two copies, of which Rogers now has one, and which he may publish if uccessary.

"Fourth: The whole Giddings family knew and approved of this agreement; have of Ida Walters's existence and that Rogers would voluntarily furnish evidence for his wife's divorce by his going to live with Ida Walters.

his home, in Nyack, yesterday. He was sixty-three years old, and was in the real estate business. His part in county politics had made him widely known in Democratic state councils.

Mr. Blauvelt sent his wife on an errand. When she returned her husband was found in the bathroom with a rubber tube rigged up between a gas jet and his mouth.

This was learned when Ottman testified that Max D. Steuer, attorney for Mrs. Tatum, has been retained by him also Impede Firemen on Freighter at Tompkinsville.

Hundreds of rats, lean, gaunt an gray, swarmed from the hold of the freighter Elswick Manor when he cargo of jute and burlap took fire yes terday as she lay at the America Docks at Tompkinsville, Staten Island In their frantic scamper to leave the Mrs. Tatum, recalled to the stand, fenced with opposing counsel as to the details of her alleged intimacy with Ottman. She wore a stylish suit, seal cost and picture nat and seemed fully recovered from the effects of her trying hours on the stand yesterday.

"Jack" Was Always Chaperoned.

Admitting that "Jack" Ottman had called on her at the Great Northern Hotel, she said, however, that he was always accompanied by his brother Philip. Regarding the flat at 65 Central Park West, her taking this over was suggested by Mr. and Mrs. William Ottman, parents of "Jack" It had been leased at $275 a month to a card club of which their son was a member.

She paid $550 cash for two months' rent, she said, but took no receipt. Her allowance at this time was $1,000 a month.

Ottman called at the apartment once in a while, she said, and was there to dinner, but always with others. Her dinner guests frequently stayed until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

At the Hotel Empire she was given room 104, she said, and asked Ottman to stay, but did not know to which room he had been assigned. She said that he registered for both of them. She hesitatingly admitted that there was a private hall between her room and that adjoining, but said she did not know whether "Jack" occupied the adjoining room.
